

Working with Narrative Therapy

This 2 day workshop will give participants an opportunity to gain knowledge and insight into Narrative Therapy techniques, such as:

- Externalisation
- Framing questions
- Unique outcomes
- Migration of identity

Drawing on her extensive experience in this area, the facilitator will present this interactive program with supporting exercises and information to enable continued implementation after the workshop.

Facilitator: Jo Hodson, Womens Health & Family Services

Jo has 30+ years of experience working in alcohol and drug and mental health, assisting clients with complex issues. Her past experience includes counselling, prevention education and management positions in schools, hospitals, correctional facilities and community health agencies. With a commitment to Best Practice approaches in the delivery of health services to women and their families and being at the forefront of delivering Gender Transformative Health Promotions, Jo has an approach that seeks not only to improve health outcomes but to address the gender inequity that underlines many health issues.
